Read the text and then answer questions 1-5.

Different Colours can affect us in many different ways; that's according to Verity Allen. In her new series «Colour me Healthy», Verity looks at the ways that colours can influence how hard we work and the choices we make. They can even change our emotions and even influence how healthy we are.

«Have you ever noticed how people always use the same colours for the same things?» says Verity. «Our toothpaste is always white or blue or maybe red. It's never green. Why not? For some reason we think that blue and white is clean, while we think of green products as being a bit disgusting. It's the same for businesses. We respect a company, which writes its name in blue or black, but we don't respect one that uses pink or orange. People who design new products can use these ideas to influence what we buy.»

During this four-part series, Verity studies eight different colours, two colours in each programme. She meets people who work in all aspects of the colour industry, from people who design food packets, to people who name the colours of lipsticks. Some of the people she meets clearly have very little scientific knowledge to support their ideas, such as the American «Colour Doctor» who believes that serious diseases can be cured by the use of coloured lights. However, she also interviews real scientists who are studying the effects of green and red lights on mice, with some surprising results.

Overall, it's an interesting show, and anyone who watches it will probably find out something new. But because Verity is goes out of her way to be polite to everyone she meets on the series, it's up to the viewers to make their own decisions about how much they should believe.

29. Nowadays some people think that the Internet is the best source of information. But there are people who think that it is not so.

I agree with the first statement that the Internet is the best ~~source~~ source of information and I have some reasons. Firstly, if you need to find the information at this moment you can do it using the Internet. Secondly, you can search for the relevant information only in the Internet, you could not find it in the book or newspaper.

In conclusion I would like to say that the Internet is ~~the~~ really the best source of information, but we should not forget about books, magazines, newspapers and so on.

The internet is a very important source of information. It has become an important part of every person's life. Computers were also an important invention, but internet is better than any other type of information. One of the obvious advantages of internet is its efficiency. You can find the information you're looking for in 5 minutes. Just google it and the answer will be available for you. The others ways to find information are worse. Nevertheless, every day millions of people turn on their computers and start surfing the world wide net, because it's the easiest and quickest way to stay informed.
